WHO WE ARE

Italian Angels for Biotech (IAB) is an association made by a group of people with significant experience in Life Sciences.

Members include successful entrepreneurs and investors, prominent executives, advisors, physicians and scientists.

Most IAB members have been also founders and/or senior executives in companies within the healthcare space.

To find details about members of our association please visit www.italianab.it.

OUR STORY

IAB was founded in mid-2015, originating from the idea of a group of successful and experienced Life Sciences professionals.

Although Italy has incredible talents and brilliant ideas are continuously generated, most projects do not have enough breadth to attract specialized investors.

As a consequence, most ideas fail to reach a level of maturity to become a successful enterprise.

We strongly believe that a specialized group of experienced Business Angels dedicated to the Life Sciences sector could help to fill this gap.

We can identify the most valuable projects, finance and nurture them to a mature stage to attract the Venture Capital community and/or corporate investors.

HOW WE WORK

IAB provides an environment that facilitates interactions between interesting start-up projects and its members.

Our goal is to identify and nurture top talent entrepreneurs in the Life Sciences sector.

We lead equity investments, mainly at a seed level, to help ideas and start-ups to reach key objectives. Our value is beyond financing, we do not provide just angel money. We bring mentoring and expertise to great ideas by becoming entrepreneur partners.

Our added value is also in networking: we connect start-ups with international venture capitals, Life Sciences experts, strategic partners, industry veterans as well as service providers such as law firms and other advisors or service companies.

We usually take board seats and work closely with entrepreneurs to maximize the chances of success.
